"Using sermons, exorcisms, letters, biographies of the saints, inscriptions, autobiographical and legal documents -- some of which are translated nowhere else -- Hillgarth shows how the Christian Church went about the formidable task of converting Western Europe. He has given preference to writings which were aimed at a concrete and identifiable audience -- a recently converted king or barely converted peasants -- and which directly reflect the aspirations of the clergy and monks who were forming the new ideals of Christian Europe." --back cover
